Soap merely washes over the surface, leaving a greasy film behind it.

Gold Dust "goes to the bottom," and insures absolute purity and sanitary safety. Why not sanitize your home, as well as clean it?

Soap needs muscle help; Gold Dust does all the hard part of the task without your assistance.

Gold Dust is a good, honest, vegetable-oil soap in powdered form, to which are added other purifying materials in just the right proportions to cleanse easily, vigorously and without harm to fabric, utensils or hand.

Wife No 2

By M. QUAD

Copyright, 1912, by Associated Literary Press.

"No; I hadn't heard about Joe Taylor's cow getting mired in the huckleberry swamp," replied Uncle Abner Shorts as some one in the crowd at the postoffice put the question, "but I've heard sadder news than that to-day—yes, a good deal sadder. Is it that any one we all know is dead? No, but perhaps it was better for him if he was dead. I don't want to keep you in suspense, and I will, therefore say that George Green got married today for the second time."

"I hadn't looking for anybody to be shocked dead at the news. It has just set me to thinking and aroused a heap of recollections. You all know that I lost my wife three years ago, and after a year I married again and am now living with No. 2. I reckon it's also pretty well known that No. 2 bosses the roost."

"There was folks in this village, gentlemen, who said that I'd grieve myself to death over my loss, and there were others who said I'd be snooping around after No. 2 within a year. As for me, I felt that I was wasting away and was powerfully surprised one day to find myself eating heartily of a boiled dinner. From that time I began to pick up, but for months afterward I had no more thoughts of marrying ag'in than Lemuel Goodheart has of putting his foot ag'in a hot stove. It seemed to me that the man who lost such an angel of a wife as I had deserved to be shot for thinking of marrying ag'in."

"Just when the idea hit me that I'd better look around a little for another woman I can't say. I think it was after I'd cooked my own meals, made my own bed, sewed on my own buttons and washed my own shirts for seven or eight months. Then the feeling stole over me that there was room in the house for another. It sorter skeered me at first, but I'm saying that it's a feeling you can get used to in a day or two. As soon as I began to wonder if I really ought to marry ag'in I found myself advancing a dozen reasons why I should."

"Well, it hain't no secret that I looked around and found the Widder Glenn. She might have been looking around at the same time, but I'm not going to say that such is the case. At first it was a question with me whether a widower could love for the second time. Within a week after I had hit the widder's trail that question was settled in the affirmative. I found myself a heap more in love than on the first occasion. All of you was kind enough to say that I made a durned fool of myself, and, though I couldn't see it then, I'm admitting most of it now."

"Gentlemen, I was two long months hesitating over asking the widder to be mine, and yet the rest of you was saying that she'd jump at the chance. Maybe you was right. I know that when I finally managed to get up the courage I hadn't hardly got my mouth open before she says yes."

"And now comes the real p'int. I'd been boss of the house, same as all of you are boss of yours. Wasn't it natural for me to keep right on bossing? Had the thought of surrendering the reins of government occurred to me? Is a man and a husband to be treated like a child or a slave? At the first go-off her bossing was a novelty, and I rather liked it and encouraged it. I was still in love, you see. After about a month the novelty wore off, and I began to assert myself. I took the bossing business into my own hands. What followed? Why, that wife got right on her hind legs and made the air blue for forty rods around. She got out ten words to my one. When I took her by the ear to sit her down and lush her up she lit into my hair and pulled it out by handfuls."

"Gentlemen, who bosses the roost? Mrs. Shorts!"

"Who handles the cash? Mrs. Shorts!"

"Who tells me when I can go and when I shall come? Mrs. Shorts!"

"Who gives me liberty to draw my breath? Mrs. Shorts!"

"I'm only telling you what you all know and what is the gossip of the town. She made up her mind when she became No. 2 that she'd be the boss, and she's carried it out. That's the way with all No. 2's. No. 1 knuckles down and lets you do the bossing and thinks it's all right, but No. 2 is no such chicken. She intended to get the whip hand when she married you, and she's going to keep it or raise such a row that you'll wish you was in your grave."

"Understand, gentlemen, that I'm saying nothing ag'in Mrs. Shorts. She's finer'n silk. O Lord, but such pickled peaches as she does put up! And apple sass—it makes you grin from your neck to your heels! Just one of the nicest women in the country, and I hope that she'll outlive me by twenty years, but I have had to use her as an illustration. She married me as all the other No. 2's. I hain't exactly saying that the man who loses No. 1 shouldn't look for a No. 2, but I'm saying that if he does he ought to know what's coming to him and what he'll be sure to get. I've fit ag'in it and fit and fit, but it's no good. To-night she sends me down here after a gallon of oil and says I can stay just forty minutes. Then forty is so mighty high up that I've got to get a hump on me and run all the way home, and even then Mrs. Shorts may be standing there with a club to hit me when I jump through the gate."

Topics of the Home and Household.

Warts may be removed in a short time by applying coal oil twice a day.

Sandwiches that have been left over are very appetizing when toasted and served hot.—Suburban Life.

To pour oil on smouldering fire is always a reckless thing to do. One may escape ninety-nine times, but the hundredth will be your Waterloo.

A mustard plaster, made with the white of an egg, will not blister, while the result will be as good.

If rice is cooked in water, it will absorb about three times its measure. If it is cooked in milk, at least half as much more liquid will be necessary.

If moles eat the bulbs and roots in flower beds, put moth balls in their runs, and they will leave. Moth balls are also good to put in hen's nests to keep them free from mites.

If the leak in a washbowl is not large, it may be stopped by dropping into the bowl, near the leakage, a little corn meal. The suction of the water oozing through the hole draws the meal to that place, and the meal swells and is drawn into the leakage and stops it, so that the work may go on without further trouble.

After getting suede shoes wet so that all the pile has gone, leaving them shiny, they will be as good as new and the pile quite recovered by getting an ordinary common piece of emery paper and rubbing the shiny parts. It will be found that the pile comes up again like new after rubbing them with dry cloth ball the same color as shoes.

Few housekeepers realize the many uses to which lime water may be put in hot weather. For little more than the trouble of making one may have generous supply of this liquid which will be found almost an article of necessity.

Purchase a lump of quicklime as big as the two fists and lay it in a granite water pitcher or bowl and pour over it two quarts of cold water; stir with a wooden spoon and let stand for six hours. Then strain the liquid through a double thickness of cheese cloth without disturbing the sediment of lime. Put in bottles and cork tightly and before using pour half an inch from the top if it has stood any length of time. Lime water is good to rinse bottles, pitchers and pans which have held milk; it is a softener for hard water, and will sweeten drains. It will bleach out the marks left when strong alkalies have failed to entirely remove grease spots. It is excellent used in milk for those of delicate stomach, and especially for those troubled with acidity; the quantity varying from a teaspoonful to a tablespoonful in a glass of milk. It is also much liked as a mouth wash. As a household remedy for scalds and burns, when used in combination with equal portions of sweet oil, it is considered the very best for this purpose.

Good Dishes of Apple Month.

There are many delightful ways of using the apple for timely desserts, and of putting up the fall apples for future use. Here are a few ideas that may be new to some and refresh the memory of others:

Apples Croquettes—Cook together one cupful of stale bread crumbs and half a cupful of milk, stirring constantly until well blended. Add the yolks of two well-beaten eggs, one tablespoonful sugar, one tablespoonful each grated yellow rind of lemon (don't get in any of the white part) and lemon juice, one large tart mellow apple, peeled and sliced, and a dozen walnut or butternut meats, also chopped. Cook a moment or two, then turn out to cool. When cold form into pearl-shaped croquettes, roll in fine crumbs and fry in smoking hot fat. Serve with caramel sauce or powdered sugar.

Ideal Apple Sauce—With a sharp knife quarter, pare, core and drop at once into a pan of cold water to prevent discoloration. When all are done skim out of the water and put into a large bottomed granite or agate kettle, so that they will not be crowded. Add boiling water—just enough to show—cover closely to keep in the steam and cook quickly on the top of the stove, shaking often to prevent sticking. As soon as they are tender—and it will take but a few moments—mash with a silver fork, sprinkle with sugar to taste, cover again and cook until the sugar is dissolved. Turn into a glass dish and serve hot or cold.

Old Philadelphia Apple Pudding—Grate eight mellow apples, add them to a cupful of stale bread crumbs and the yolks of three eggs beaten light. Mix with a teaspoonful vanilla and bake half an hour in a moderate oven. Whip the whites of the eggs to a stiff froth, adding two tablespoonfuls granulated sugar.

Add a teaspoonful of vanilla. Heap on top of the pudding, which should have been slightly cooled, then set back in the oven to puff and color a delicate brown. This pudding may be eaten with cream, hot or chilled, as preferred.

Jersey Apple Dumplings—Pare and core ripe apples, filling each apple with a tablespoonful of sugar. Make a rich pie crust and cut in circles or squares large enough to hold an apple. Set an apple in the center of each, put a bit of butter on top and fold the pastry around the apple. Put in a granite dripping pan, and cover the dumplings with cold water. Add for each dumpling a tablespoonful of sugar and nutmeg to season. Bake about two hours, keeping the pan covered the first hour. No sauce will be needed besides that in the pan.

Apple Batter Pudding—Peel and core a half dozen nice apples and set closely together in a well-buttered pudding dish. Sprinkle them with a half cupful of sugar and a cupful of water; cover and bake until tender. Take out and partially cool before pouring over them a batter made of five heaping teaspoonfuls of flour sifted with one teaspoonful baking powder, and a saltspoon of salt, then mixing with one tablespoonful melted butter, three eggs beaten light and one pint of milk. Return to the oven, bake quickly and serve with a liquid sauce.

Apple and Sage Pudding—Peel and core enough apples to fill a baking dish. Fill the centers of the apples with sugar seasoned with grated nutmeg. Have ready a cupful of sage that has been cooked in water to cover until clear, pour around the apples and bake an hour in a moderate oven. If it gets too dry, add a little more water during the baking. Serve cold with cream.

HOME TREATMENT FOR NERVOUSNESS

It is never too late to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People for nervous troubles.

You can be certain that a breakdown or exhaustion of your nerves is due to a lack of nourishment caused by thin or impure blood. The starved nerves break down after any unusual strain. This condition is easily remedied with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They start at once to build up the blood, making it richer and purer with every dose, thereby checking further wear on the nerves and the progress of the disease. The new blood makes the nerves more fit every day to do their work.

The thoroughness with which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People act is seen in the clear complexion, better appetite, improved digestion, gain in weight and the freedom from restlessness, sleeplessness, irritability and headaches.

Mrs. J. L. Brennan, of No. 89 Parker street, Brewer, Maine, says: "For three years I suffered with nervousness and was confined to bed one time for six weeks. I couldn't sleep as I was constantly imagining that I saw all sorts of things when I closed my eyes. My stomach was in bad shape and I could eat nothing but light foods. I was troubled with gas on my stomach. I had awful headaches. The pains were through my forehead and were like neuralgia. I became so weak that I could hardly walk across the floor and had to give up my work. My heart would palpitate when I exerted myself, like going up stairs."

"Our doctor said I was nervous and run down but he did not give me enough help and I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In a month's time I had been greatly benefited and I took the pills until cured. I am now free from nervousness and can recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a grand blood and nerve tonic."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People have given gratifying results in nervous debility, nervous headache, neuralgia, sciatica, St. Vitis' dance and even partial paralysis and locomotor ataxia.

FEDERATION MEETS.

Great Labor Body in Session at Rochester, N. Y.

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 8.—The first of the two weeks' sessions of the American Federation of Labor and its five departments opened yesterday with meetings of the metal trades and union label departments. Each of the department gatherings is attended by 100 delegates, representing the thousands of workers in the United States and will pass upon matters to be laid before the convention when it convenes here Monday.

The meeting of the metal trades department was opened by an address by President James O'Connell of Washington. John F. Tobin of Boston, president of the union label department, opened that meeting.

One of the questions that will be discussed in each of the departments is whether it would be advisable for workers to organize a political party which will embody their desire for legislation. The American Federation of Labor has never taken part in a political campaign and has a rule forbidding political discussions in its meetings.

BULL MOOSE GOES ON

So Much is Decided by Theodore Roosevelt

NO DEFINITE PROGRAMME

Will Work to Capture the Next Congress—He Evidently Is Not Surprised by Wilson's Election.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Nov. 8.—Colonel Roosevelt spent the day quietly at his home, analyzing the election returns. When he has concluded, he will issue, perhaps at once, a statement outlining the future plans of the Progressive party and reviewing its accomplishments. Senator Dixon was expected at Sagamore Hill yesterday afternoon for a final conference before his return to Montana.

Colonel Roosevelt says he wants to tell his supporters everywhere what he thinks of the outcome and the outlook. "I want to find out just where we stand first," he explained. "The returns are far from complete. For instance, I saw in an afternoon paper that Mr. Wilson had carried Minnesota, and I have just received a telegram saying that I carried it. I don't know which is correct. And I wish also to hear more fully from the South. When I have all the facts accurately, I shall make a statement."

The only thing which was accomplished as a settled fact at Sagamore Hill yesterday was that the fight was to go on. What methods Colonel Roosevelt will adopt are unknown, even to himself. "Of course the fight will go on," he said, with an air of finality. "In the end the cause must triumph."

Close friends of Colonel Roosevelt said he was not surprised at Governor Wilson's election, because he was at no time confident, they asserted, that the new party would be able to win its first fight. The showing which the party made, his friends said, had pleased, rather than disappointed his leader.

Several Progressive leaders came to Oyster Bay to talk over the election and the plans for the future.

It is Colonel Roosevelt's desire to have a vacation from politics after these plans have been decided upon, although he expects to keep constantly in touch with the general aspects of the situation. It is hoped to carry forward some kind of Progressive propaganda throughout the next two years, with an eye to the congressional and state elections in 1914, for the party leaders decided at once that the future of the organization would depend largely upon what it was able to accomplish in the next general election.

HASN'T CHOSEN HIS CABINET.

Wilson Denies Talk About Probable Selections.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 8.—President-elect Wilson has not decided upon the personnel of his cabinet and intends to keep his mind open on the subject a long time before he takes office. He was manifestly concerned yesterday about certain speculations regarding the probable make-up of the cabinet, and in order to stop such gossip he issued this statement:

"Such speculations are perfectly fruitless. No announcement will have the least authority that is not made over my own signature."

From his announced intention of being the "best listener in the United States" for a few months, it is probable that until he has talked with party leaders and taken counsel with people all over the country he will not definitely consider appointments.

Gov. Wilson had a busy time with correspondence, telegrams and callers yesterday. Two visitors from Staunton, Va., his birthplace, invited him to visit that town, promising him a "birthplace jubilee." He promised to go, probably during December. The visit may be made near his birthday, December 28, when he will be 56 years old.

"NICK" LONGWORTH PROBABLY BEATEN

Rumored That He Will Carry Contest to the Floor of the Congress.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Nov. 8.—Complete unofficial returns from the first Ohio congressional district yesterday afternoon indicated the defeat of Congressman Nicholas Longworth for re-election by Stanley Dowle, a Democrat, by 159 votes.

In the event Dowle is declared elected, it is said that Longworth will carry the contest to the floor of Congress.

DEBS IS PESSIMISTIC.

Foresees Panic in an Interest-Controlled Government.

Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 8.—Insisting that the only thing that will be of any good to the workingman and woman of the country must come from Socialism, and that no benefit can be anticipated from Wilson's election, Eugene V. Debs said yesterday: "If any radical tariff revision or any other legislation in the interest of the working class is attempted, big interests will be heard from in a way to make Democratic statesmen hesitate. If such an attempt should be persisted in, which is not at all likely, big interests will precipitate a panic that will paralyze the country and utterly discredit the Democrats."

"President Wilson will find himself face to face with a situation beyond the power of any mortal being to control. One element of his party and, as I believe, the more powerful one, will favor Wall Street, Tammany and the big interests. The other element, pulling in the opposite direction, will demand relief from trust rule and monopoly. If the administration attempts to serve the people, it will be thwarted by the big interests, represented by Ryan, Belmont and Sullivan, and if on the other hand the administration is controlled by Wall Street it will be eternally damned and repudiated by the rank and file of the party."

REBELLION DYING OUT.

Reports from Mexico Indicate Return of Peace.

Washington, Nov. 8.—The Mexican rebellion will soon end, according to statements of Mexican authorities. Though there are small uprisings occurring in various parts of the republic, the rebels are said to have shot their bolt. In Vera Cruz and Oaxaca, the uprisings have been put down effectually and quiet prevails throughout those parts of the country. According to the authorities, hundreds of the rebels are giving up the fight.

Crawford Ranges

One very remarkable fact in connection with Crawford Ranges is that nobody ever willingly changes from a Crawford to a range of any other make.

There must be a reason—we believe there are several. The Single Damper (patented), the scientific Cup-Joint Oven Flues that heat the oven in every part alike; the Ash Hod (patented), instead of the clumsy ash pan; these are some of the Crawford time and trouble savers.

If you will carefully examine and compare the Crawford with any or all other cooking ranges you will see why Crawford's do better work, with more comfort for the cook and less waste of time and money. Send for the illustrated pamphlet.
